

"Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stay these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed Rounds."

*"Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat,
nor gloom of night stay these
couriers from the swift completion
of their appointed Rounds."*

Above, right, city mail carriers leaving a large post office. Each one will walk many miles delivering mail. Below, workers in the post office of a large city sorting incoming letters and parcel post is long to let people know it coming.

After dark a night watchman walked about the town to make sure that people brother. By 1771 about twenty-five different newspapers were being printed in the colonies. They printed stories about

Franklin's printing shop

